

Winner of YOUNG METEOR of the year

Nick Jagoda

Nick Jagoda has spent 10 years at Elementum Advisors and became the youngest person named as a principal in the company's history in January 2014.

Nick launched the ILS manager's Bermuda office in late 2011 and has since shepherded its growth to seven people as of March 2016.

He leads Elementum's collateralised reinsurance efforts, with a focus on structuring customised solutions. One such transaction won a Trading Risk award for the initiative of the year in 2015.

Elementum said that Nick's creativity and relationships made him a "go-to" person for brokers and insurers looking for unique solutions.

Young Meteor Nick Jagoda – Susan Lane, Tokio Solution Management

Entry criteria: Candidates will be an individual, aged 35 or under on 31 December 2015, and working in the convergence sector. Although young, the winner would already have made a significant contribution to the sector, clearly demonstrating a solid contribution to the future of the convergence market. Candidates must be nominated, or supported by, their departmental manager.